

The Minimalist Plan To $1 Million

Belief: "Perfection is not when there's nothing else to add but when there's nothing else to remove."

The goal: $1 Million / year in profit with the least moving pieces.

The number could be something else. I personally felt like I made it at $5k/month. But I found $1 million to be nice and gets you thinking big. And if you're gonna do this thing, you might as well think big.

Conventional wisdom tells us that we need 84 people at $1,000/month to get there. It's not wrong but it could be simpler.

I have ~60 active clients. But 10 of them are on higher tier packages for which I charge double and triple. Some Whales are willing to pay you so much more and we need to take that into account:

To get to $1 million you don't need 84 people paying you $1k/month.

It's more like 67 people paying you varying amounts plus some customer offers.

Breakdown:

12 people paying you $500/week
+
55 people paying you $250/week
+
A few customer offers that create $5k/month.

$84,000/month = $1 million/year.

You're 67 people away from taking home $1 million in profit every year. Not 1000. Not 100. 67.

If you had great offers and you made them daily for 1 year, could you get 67 people and some change to say yes?

First (From The Goal To The Start): We'll map out the Model that will get you there in 12 months.

Second (From The Start To The Goal): We'll take the first step by starting with 16 weeks. These are really good months coming up: Autumn, Holidays and New Year's. We'll craft your plan from here to January to set the foundations for a $1 million/year business. The Minimalist way.

The Easiest Offer To Sell

Part of crafting the simplest path to $1 million is finding the easiest offer to sell. Which just so happens that you already have:

It's you.

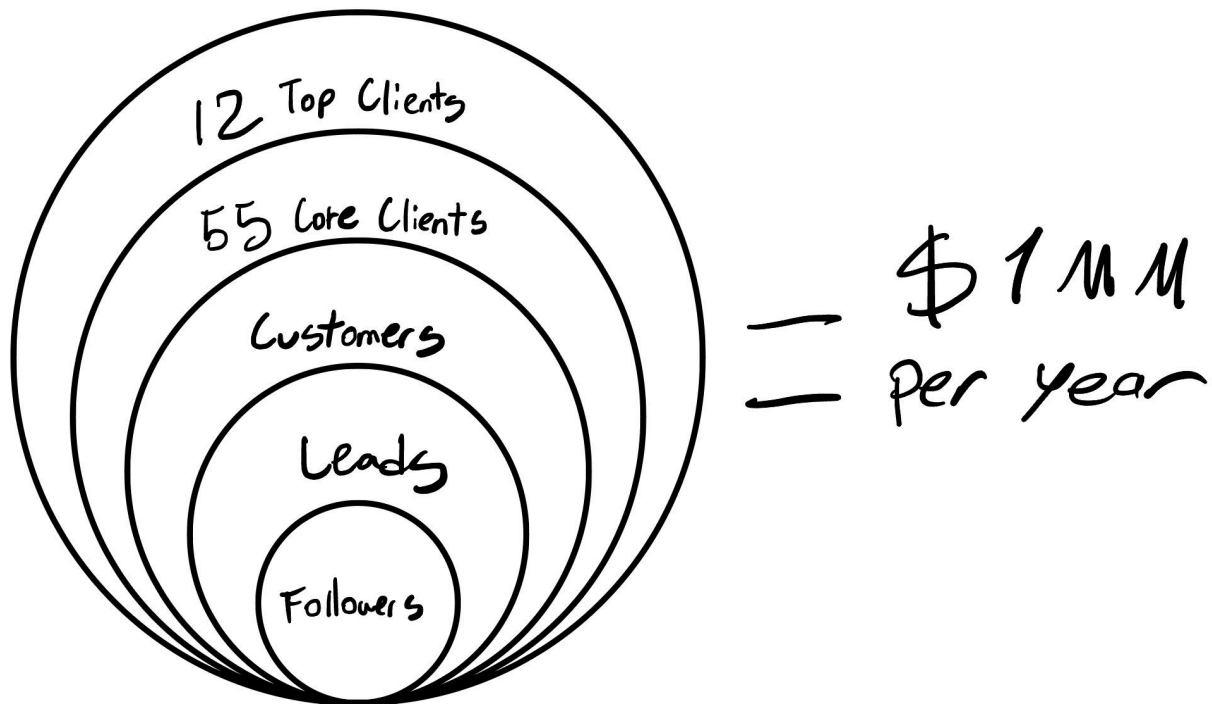

People don't buy the guru's offers. They buy the guru. When I first started I was aware of this and even though I didn't have a portal I could still retain and serve clients.

Instead of having many offers (an offer suite), we will just sell access to you with an Offer Shell:

We'll sell different access to you so that you only have to convince people into one sale: You. And let them fit into the level of access that fits best for them.

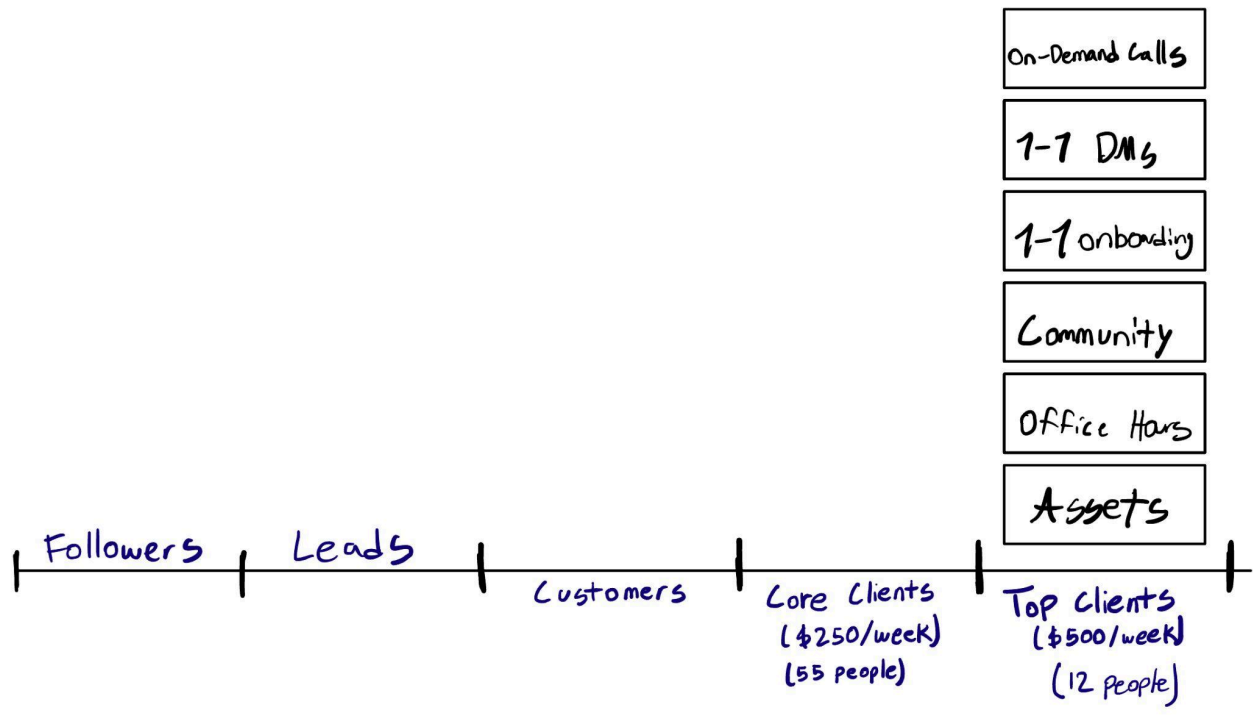

What we aim for:

Top Clients

This is the top level of your Offer Shell. Where you give the most you're willing to give and blur lines:

By blurring lines I mean it's not about DFY vs. DWY with your Top Clients. Because they're the Top, use all your might to get them a result. Sometimes it's extra 1-on-1's. Sometimes I write copy for them. This will be the closest access someone gets to you so it's important that you limit it at 12 people.

This sells for $200-$750/week (as a rule of thumb, twice the pricing of your Core Offer).

Core Clients

The next level of your Offer Shell is where ~60% of the recurring revenue comes from.

It's your Top Clients Level minus the 1-on-1 On-Demand Calls and 1-on-1 DMs. To most, this level of access is ideal.

$100-$250/week is a safe bet if you're starting out with this model. I started at $250/week.

Customers

Until now we've only talked about clients. Most people would focus on getting leads to turn them into clients but not us.

We understand Prospect Inertia: The more money someone gives you the more money they're likely to give you. That makes asking leads for money quite a reach.

Customers are in my experience worth 50 leads because they're just so much more likely to buy,

Hence why I'm here today and I'm not out there DMing people. I don't spend time with leads. I make more by focusing on my customer offers and only talking to people with credit cards.

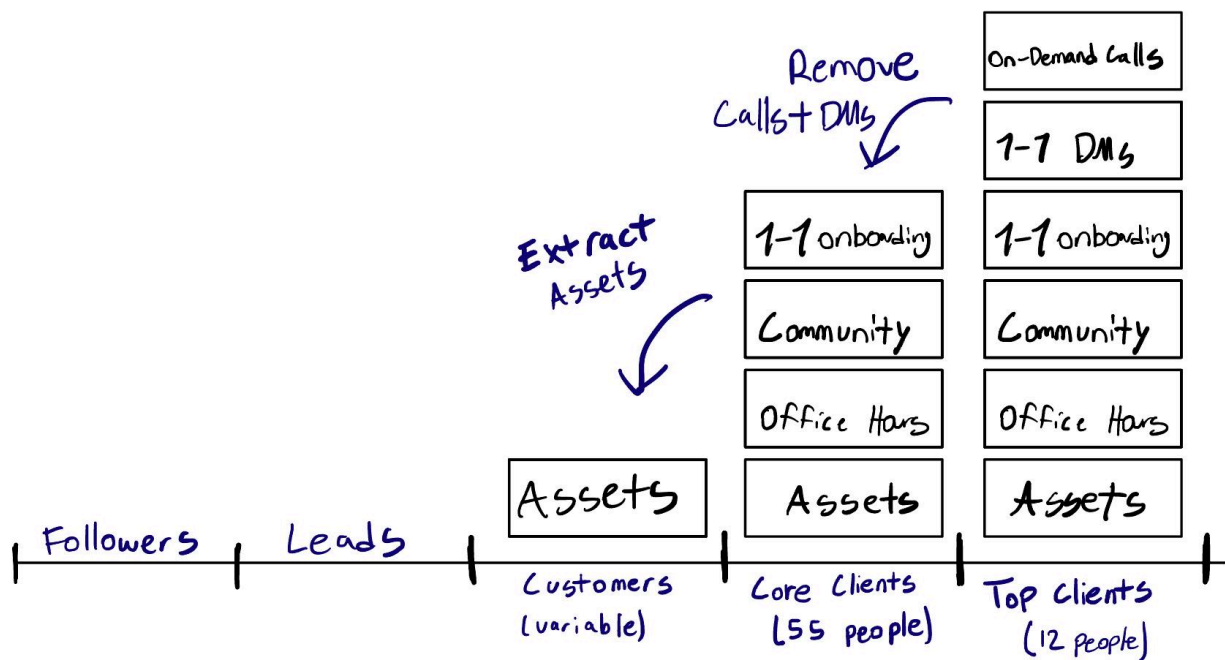

You do this with The Workshop Funnel:

This has allowed me to create 700 customers and 150 clients. XX% conversion rate - the highest I've ever had:

1. Deliver assets to your clients in workshop form (or a format they understand well) 1-2 times a month.
2. Sell one-time tickets to get customers for $50-$100.
3. Turn those customers into clients.

A note: Using this Funnel means you're not creating to get paid. You're getting paid to create.

(As of today, I got paid $X to host this).

I'm calling it Assets because not everyone benefits from doing "workshops".

Eventually you have a few of these lined up. Or you already have some from your past work. And it would be kind of a waste not to do something with them.

That's why Assets are not the only thing we'll extract from our Offer.

We'll also extract Products from our Offer. The distinction matters:

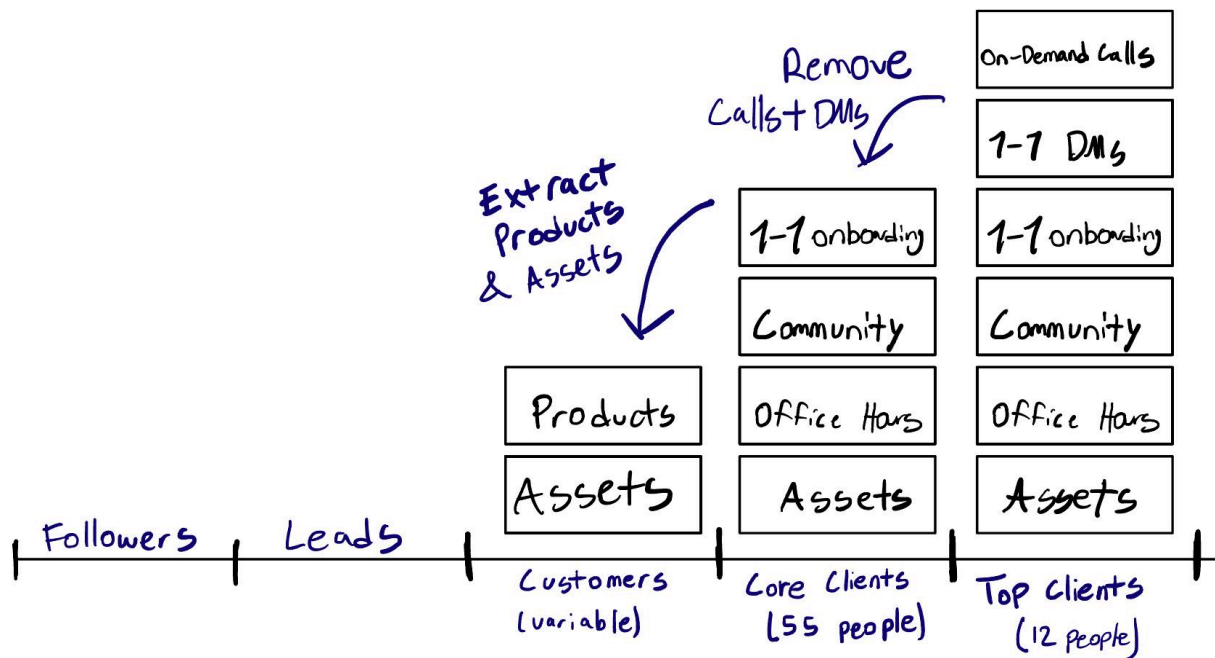

Offer
Products

Promise	SWSC	Whole Bait	V vs. I.	Offer Shell
Path	1-Off	16-weeks	1-month	12-months
Pricing	$100	$1000	$350	$750
Why Now?	Down	Scarcity	Urgency	Bonus

4 consistent ones: Workshops, Hours, Passes & Bundles.

Where we're at:

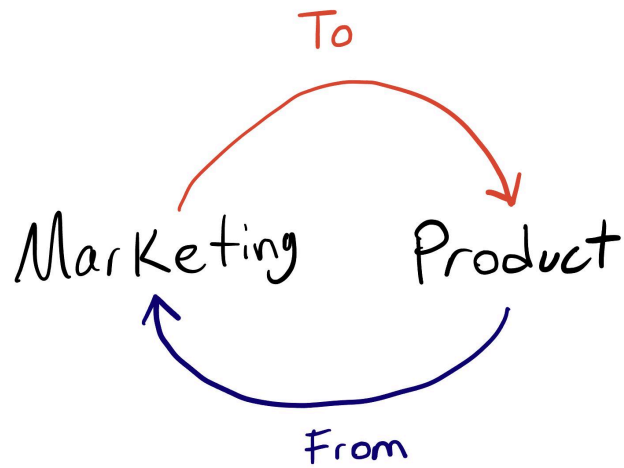

Leads

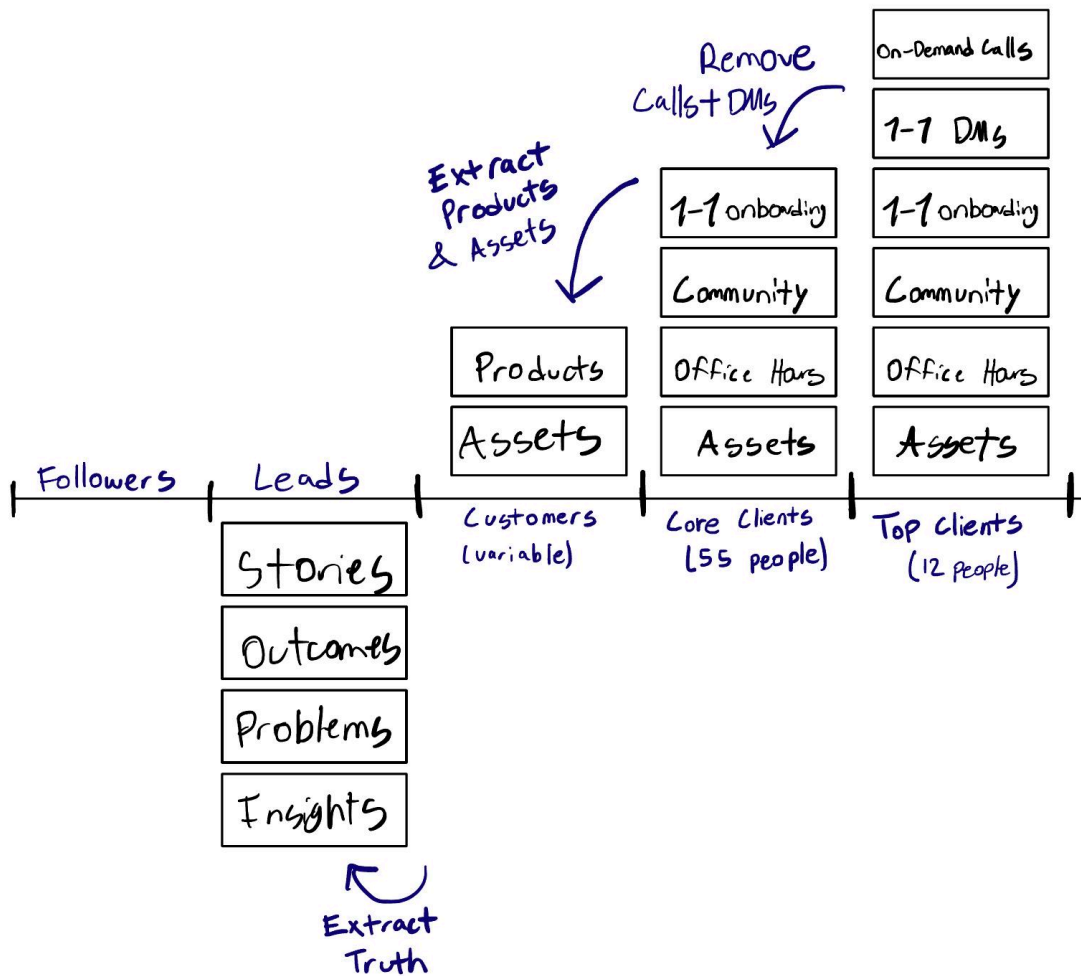

We've only covered what you give in exchange for money. Next is what you give for free for contact info. AKA Leads.

My favorite marketing quote: "Marketing beyond conveying information is insecurity." - Nassim Taleb.

The best marketing is honest. It's just about telling a story that already happened. That's why as Cash Creators we get leads by marketing from our product. Not to our product.

We don't struggle creating content because we simply tell the Truth. We focus on our Delivery and creating great work and tell the Truth that comes from it:

Examples of each:

- Stories.
- Outcomes.
- Problems.
- Insights.

An asset you can use:  61 Sawdust Templates .

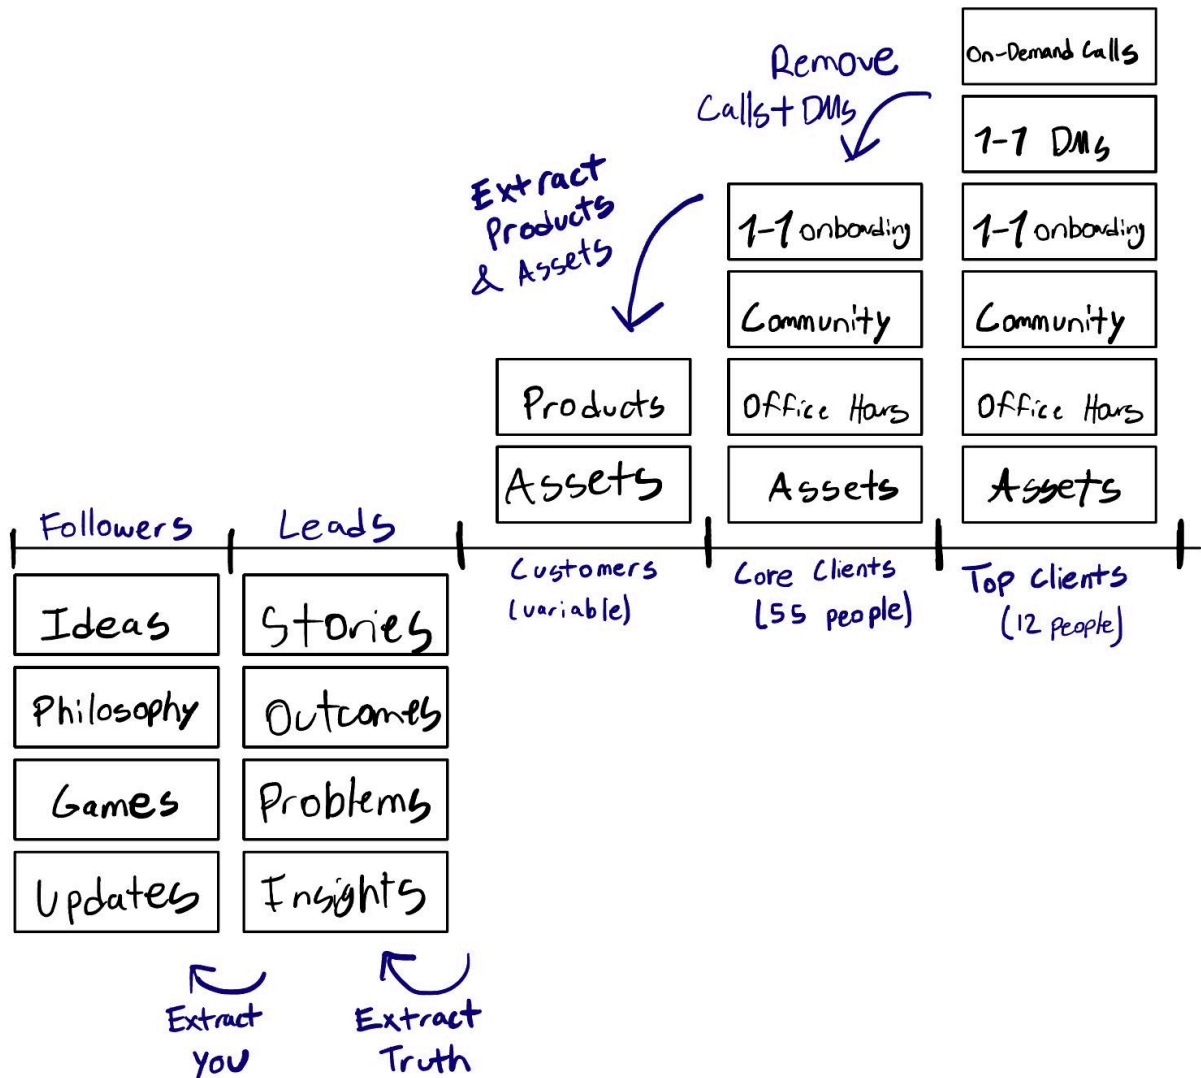

“Tell the truth. But make it fascinating.” - Ogilvy.

Followers

People buy coaches not coaching. To attract a following we can't just base our stuff on numbers and truth. If you build an audience logically you will miss out on the emotional aspect that makes people buy.

I ask everyone why they're here and some folks just say “because I want to become a Cash Creator.” A following built with the “magic” you create by being you beats an audience built on facts and value. (Hence why testimonial walls don't work.)

We build a following by extracting pieces of us:

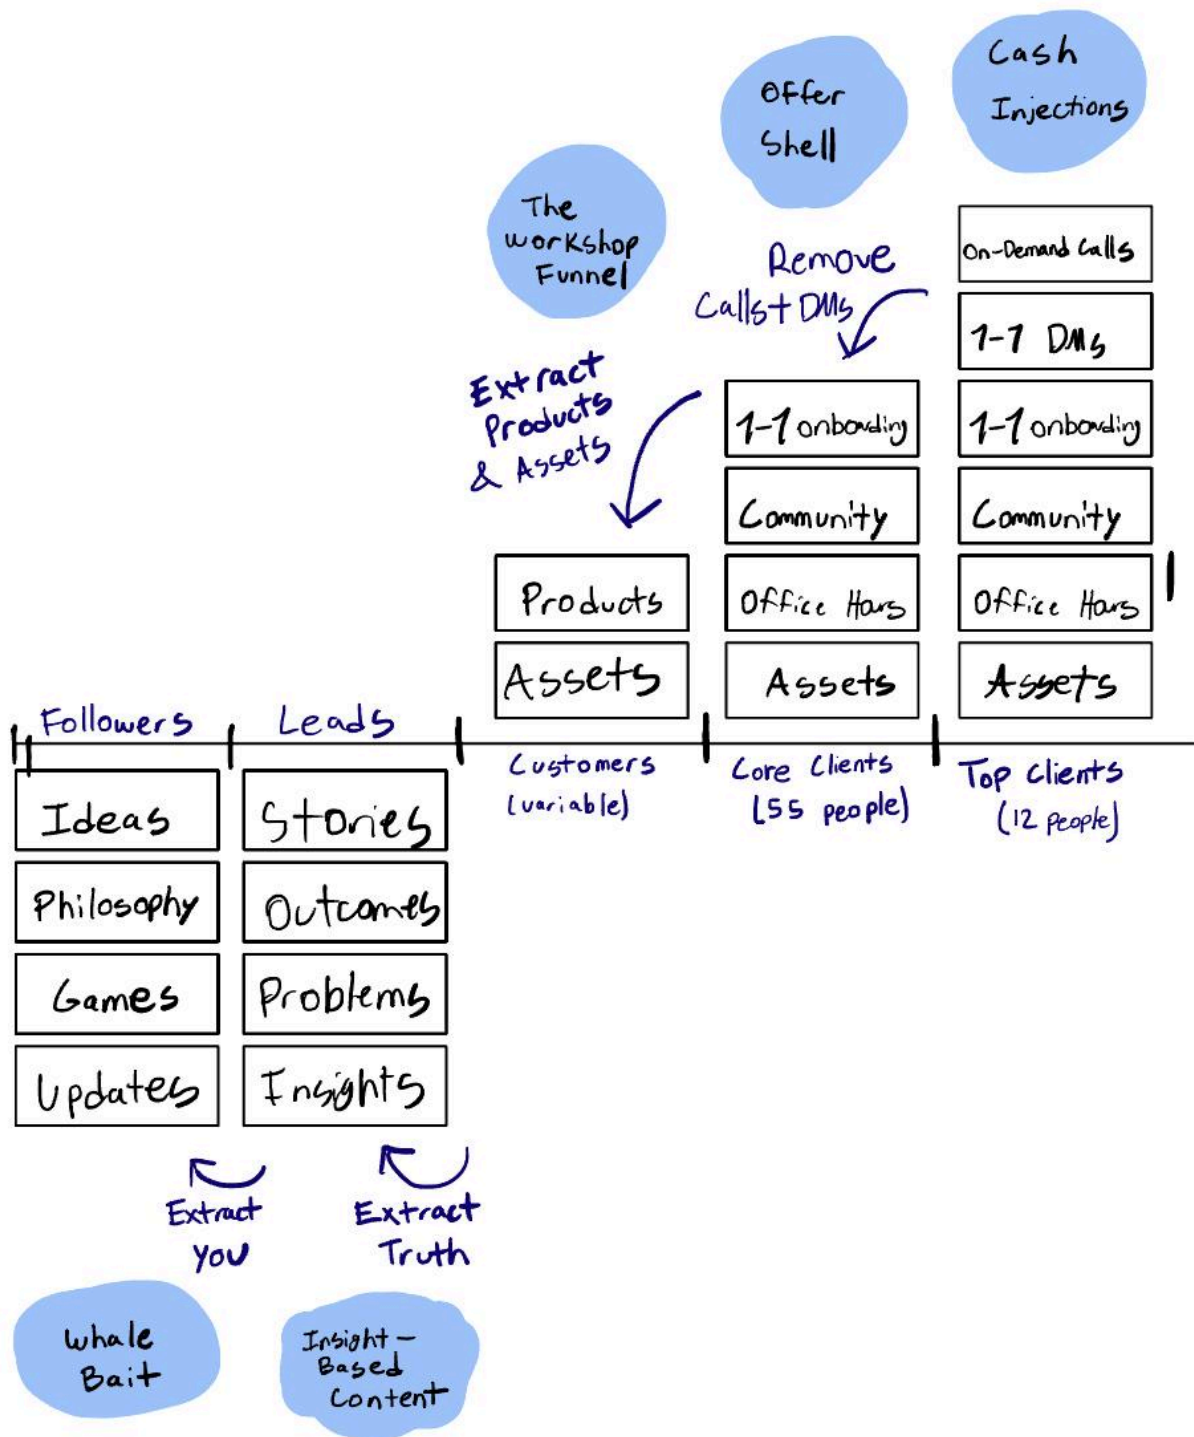

Examples:

- Ideas
- Philosophy
- Games
- Updates

The Minimalist Plan To $1 Million

- You attract Followers that can afford you with Whale Bait, which is based on yourself.

- You turn them into Leads with Insight-Based Content, that doesn't give away the answer but proves that you have it.
- You turn them into Customers with an easy, compelling customer offer using The Workshop Funnel.
- You turn 55 of them into Core Clients with the lowest level of your Offer Shell, which makes it easy to say yes for a low weekly fee.
- And you upsell 12 of them into Top Clients with Cash Injections by selling more access to what they want most: You.

Seen a different way:

Many variables but this is the strategy.

The next best way I can serve you is giving you the tactics:

- Which offers do I craft?

- How do I make them?
- How often do I make them?

Next week we'll create your next 16 weeks that will cover you until January so you can set the foundations for $1 million.

Each month needs different tactics. I'll show them to you. Let's answer questions on the Model first.